

An aerial map of Laguna Beach, California, showing a route for the Sawdust Festival. The route starts at the top right, follows Laguna Canyon Rd north, then turns south on Highway 133, and finally turns west on S Coast Hwy towards the beach. A yellow text box in the center-right states "1.5 miles of walking felt good!". Two white arrows with black outlines point towards the route: one at the top pointing right towards the festival start, and one at the bottom pointing left towards the beach. Various street names are labeled, including Laguna Canyon Rd, Highway 133, Forest Ave, Ocean Ave, Broadway St, and S Coast Hwy. Landmarks like Irvine Bowl Park and Main Beach are also visible.
